What Germany Teaches

For three years Germany has withstood nearly the whole world. Her ability to stand before her enemies is due greatly to her remarkable economy and thrift. Upon this nation is placed the burden of defeating Germany. Our soldiers are brave, our resources are great, but unless we learn to sacrifice and save as Germany has leraned to do we cannot hope to win the war without terrible cost. Very Bad Management.

He had been showing his rich old sunt from the country some of the sights, and this evening they were to witness a revue.

He was keen on making a good impression, as he had great expectations from the old lady. So he was quite taken back when, as soon as the curtain rose, the good dame grasped himby the arm and hurried him from the theater.

"Disgraceful! Such bad manage ment!" she said, indignantly, when they had reached the lounge. "Just fancy allowing the curtain to go up before those poor girls were dressed.

The Charge.

FOOD SITUATION IN THE ALLIED NATIONS GRAVE

Reports of Shortage in England, France and Italy Worries United States.

Washington.-The food situation in the allied countries is graver than at any previous time during the war and is giving American government officials deep concern. Official reports picture extreme food shortages in England, France and Italy.

The fact conditions in Germany and Austria are far worse offers the only grounds for optimism.

In England and France the situation is described as critical in a cablegram to the food administration from Lord Rhondda, British food controller, which concluded with these words: "I view the situation with grave anxiety."

A cablegram from the French government said that the wheat crop had been requisitioned and that the bread ration would be cut to allow only seven ounces daily to all persons except the very poor and those doing hard manual labor.

In Italy conditions are not as good, perhaps, as in either England or France. Compulsory rationing will be started in England immediately, with meats the first commodity to be put under control. Distribution of butter and margarine will be taken in hand next and other foods will be added as they become scarcer. All of the principal foodstuffs will be rationed by April. "I have repeatedly said in public and private that there is no reason for immediate alarm, although there is every reason for strict economy and pecuniary measures," said Lord Rhondda's message. "These statements in some instances have been twisted into a declaration that there is plenty of food in England and France. The food position in this country, and I understand in France also, can without exaggeration be described as critical and anxious. As I am now unable to avoid compulsory rationing. I fear it will have to come with long lines of people awaiting in the severe weather in practically every town in England for the daily necessaries of life."

Compulsory control of foodstuffs in England, France and Italy was insisted on by the American delegates to the Paris conference and was promised at that time.

Solons Want Nation to Take Over Many Industries.

Washington .- A government con trol fever is sweeping the war cap-

Initial popularity throughout the country of President Wilson's action in taking over operation of the railway lines is reflected in demands upon legislators to place other industries under the government when they fail to function properly as private enter-

As a result, bills authorizing operation of everything from oil wells to telephones have been introduced in congress or are being drafted.

In the new spirit government ownership advocates see the dawn of their "heyday."

Probably the next great move along he control line will be taken by the government in the coal fields. Poolng of mines, coal and equipment, is emed inevitable, even by Fuel Administrator Garfield, if a repetition of his winter's coal famine in many sections is to be avoided.

With their first real chance estabished by the taking over of railroads, dvocates of government ownership the goal of their policy in sight. Their confidence was heightened by he inrush of additional bills placed before the house and senate authorizng further government control. Among these, introduced or being drafted, are: Senator Fletcher's bill authorizing shipping board control of street car and interurban systems near ship yards. Representative Aswell's measure to apower the president to take over or operation all telephone, telegraph, radio and cable systems. Measures for coal and oil control. And in addition to these, there al ady is available power in the president's hands through laws already as ed and through the domination of railroads over all industries, to place dustrial America practically under federal control.
